DID YOUR 2018 TRAFFIC LOOK A BIT LIKE THIS?
DID YOU AGONIZE OVER THIS TWEET BY GOOGLE?

Want to do better with a broad change? Have great content. Yeah, the same boring answer. But if you want a better idea of what we consider great content, read our raters guidelines. That's like almost 200 pages of things to consider:

DID YOU THEN PRINT THIS OUT, LAMINATE IT, AND KEEP IT WITH YOU AT ALL TIMES?

…OR WAS THAT JUST ME?

“We expect Ads to be visible. However, pages with Ads or features that distract from or interrupt the use of the main content should be given a low-quality rating.”
Oh So slow loading
There are far too many ads trying to load which normally results in freezing and stalling.

Used to be amazing, now such a disappointment
It's now seem to have been lobotomised and turned into low value content supported by an explosion of adverts, so much so that it stopped working on my older iPad and corporate IT asset.

THE 50 BEST TV OPENING CREDITS (2008-2018)

Share, First impressions are everything...

- sea_come • The opening credits for TV shows have become even more elaborate over the past few years. HBO’s Game of Thrones and AMC’s The Walking Dead, among others, are taking the creative bar with respect for music and visual imagery. The quest for the coveted Primetime Emmy Award for Outstanding Main Title Design has never been more intense. We dive into our favorite TV shows and characters developments during the opening, when it comes to developing new credits or music, to make the opening credits’ sequence captivating and make a strong first impression.

Now that it’s 2018, we wanted to look back on our favorite TV opening credits from 2008-2018. Some of our most buffafly shows don’t Anja, funny in Philadelphia. We can, and The Simpsons did not make the cut since they premiered before 2008. For a look at which shows made IGN’s list, check out the video below.

1. (British slang, esp. Asian, i.e. Indian, Pakistani, etc.)

Contraction of "isn't it", "isn't he/she", "aren't they", "isn't there" and many other end-of-sentence questions. For greatest effect use in places where it would make no sense whatsoever if expanded.

2. General positive exclamation meaning "yes, I agree!"

1. "Hey dere's some pigs in dat cop car over there innit?" "Ya look at my new car innit!"

2. Raj: "Da Matrix is totally cool!"

“SO, HOW DOES GOOGLE MEASURE ALL OF THIS STUFF?”
HINT: THERE’S A CONNECTION TO BACKLINKS AND PAGERANK
Search quality evaluators measure & assess website quality in live user tests

Feedback is benchmarked and used to inform algorithms

Algorithms identify signals that correlate with E-A-T (PageRank & links)

How Google Fights Disinformation
WHY E-A-T MATTERS

• Google is relying on you to help make the internet a better place

• If you wouldn’t trust a website, search engines probably won’t either

• E-A-T can help all digital efforts, not just SEO
5 QUICK TIPS TO IMPROVE E-A-T

1. Improve your online reputation and reviews on 3rd party websites
2. Don’t overwhelm your users with ads or try to deceive them
3. Disclose who your brand is, who your authors are, and why they should be trusted
4. Cite credible sources and receive (organic!) links from credible sources
5. Make sure YMYL content is supported by scientific evidence
